Subject: Gluten in ADM Citric Products

Whom It May Concern:

ADM citric acid products are produced by the fermentation of raw materials from plant sources including corn starch and beet molasses. Citric acid is produced on dedicated equipment in a closed system. Sodium and potassium citrate are campaigned on the same manufacturing line utilizing a hot water cleaning procedure between campaigns. There is no gluten in the finished citric products.

We are happy to provide this information to you. Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have questions or need additional information. The toll free number here in Decatur is 1-800-553-8411
