Proposition 65 Statement

The Safe Drinking Water and Toxic Enforcement Act of 1986 in Title 27 of the California Code of Regulations, commonly known as “Proposition 65”, requires businesses to provide a “clear and reasonable” warning when they knowingly and intentionally cause an exposure to an OEHHA listed chemical, and prohibits the discharge of listed chemicals into sources of drinking water. Its purpose is to protect the state’s drinking water sources and provide California residents assistance in making informed decisions regarding exposure to listed chemicals that cause cancer or reproductive effects in purchased products and at physical sites.

After review of Corn Division products, it is ADM’s position that a Proposition 65 warning label is not required for the products we sell you, as none contain listed chemicals at levels above “no significant risk”.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact Corn Division Technical Services.
